

Forårsmøde i Dansk Thyroidea Selskab

Tid: Fredag den 3. maj 2019 kl. 12.00-18.00
Sted: Auditorium 2, Rigshospitalet, København

Program:

12.00-12.05: Velkomst

12.05-12.45: Foretagskonkurrence

Victor Brun Boesen, Endokrinologisk Afdeling, Rigshospitalet
Shorter recall period for the ThyPRO survey did not change the accuracy evaluated by repeated momentary measurements

Emil Anton Frandsen, Endokrinologisk Afdeling, Rigshospitalet
The role of B cells in Graves' disease

Signe Buhl Gram, Øre-Næse-Hals Afdelingen, Rigshospitalet
Risk of thyroid cancer in 1504 patients referred for thyroid surgery with assumed benign histology

Diana Grove-Laugesen, Endokrinologisk Afdeling, Aarhus Universitetshospital
Effect of nine months of vitamin D supplementation on muscle performance and QoL in Graves' disease: a double-blinded, randomized clinical trial

12.45-13.10: Pause med sandwich

13.10-13.50: Foretagskonkurrence - fortsat

Louise Knøsgaard, Klinisk Biokemisk Afdeling, Aalborg Universitetshospital
Frequency of abnormal maternal thyroid function and thyroid autoimmunity among 14.323 pregnant women in the North Denmark Region

Mads Petersen, Endokrinologisk Afdeling, Aalborg Universitetshospital
Iodine fortification dramatically changes the spectrum in both thyrotoxicosis and hypothyroidism subtypes

Elvira Silajdzija, Endokrinologisk Afdeling, Rigshospitalet
Genetics of Polyglandular Autoimmune Syndrome type 2

Louise Ramhøj, National Food Institute, Danmarks Tekniske Universitet
Thyroid hormones, chemicals and brain development in rodents: A tale of atypical hormone profiles and insensitive assays jeopardizing human brain function

13.50-14.15: Pause med kaffe og kage

14.15-15.45: Symposium om hypothyroidisme

Danish Thyroid Association's Distinguished Annual Lecture. The Peter Laurberg Prize Lecture.
Prof. Colin Dayan, Cardiff University
Current challenges in the treatment of hypothyroidism

Overlæge, ph.d. Birte Nygaard, Endokrinologisk Afdeling, Herlev Hospital
Current challenges in the treatment of hypothyroidism in Denmark

15.45-16.05: Pause med kaffe og kage

16.05-17.05: Præsentation af nylige ph.d.-afhandlinger

Kristine Zøylner Swan, Øre-Næse-Hals Afdelingen, Aarhus Universitetshospital
The dilemmas of thyroid nodule risk stratification in the prediction of differentiated thyroid carcinoma

Mette Nygaard Einfeldt, Endokrinologisk Afdeling, Hillerød Hospital
The Impact of Levothyroxine Treatment on Cardiovascular Risk and Mortality in Patients with Thyroid Dysfunction - Epidemiological studies

Bjarke Medici, Endokrinologisk Afdeling, Herlev Hospital
Hypothyroidism, Metabolism and Quality of life

17.05-17.15: Afrunding og kåring af vinder af foredragskonkurrencen

17.15-18.00: Generalforsamling (kun for medlemmer)